Message From the President

The National Sustainable Agriculture Standards meeting held on April 13 and 14, 2011 at the Gap, Inc. headquarters in San Francisco, California marked an important milestone in the development of the National Sustainable Agriculture Standard. The purpose of the meeting was to review the progress made during the public comment period and to set the stage for the next phase of standard development.

The Sustainable Gaming Standard draft public comment period has been out for public comment and the public comment period is now closed. The Committee will work on addressing the comments received and finalizing the standard.

In other recent news, our sustainability training team delivered in-person training in Madison, Wisconsin for LEED® Green Associate accreditation. Visit our training website at www.leonardoacademy.org/training for more information.
